ING Unsung Heroes® – Rewarding Excellence in America's Schools

The ING Unsung Heroes program has helped more than a thousand K-12 educators and their schools fund innovative classroom projects through awards totaling more than $3 million.

Do you or does someone you know have a creative, unique educational program that is helping students reach new heights? Or is there a program you'd like to implement, if only you had the proper funding? Fill out the attached application and apply for an award today.

To Apply for a 2010 Award

To ensure impartiality, the 2010 program will again be managed by Scholarship America. Applications must be postmarked by April 30, 2010. To apply, complete the attached application. Additional application forms may be obtained by contacting Scholarship America or your local ING representative. The attached application may also be photocopied. To download another application and to receive more detailed information about the award recipients and their winning projects, visit the ING Unsung Heroes awards program website at: www.ing.com/us/unsungheroes.

Who's Eligible?

All K-12 education professionals, whether or not they are clients of ING, are eligible. Specifically, these individuals must be:

- Employed by an accredited K-12 public or private school located in the United States
- Full-time educators, teachers, principals, paraprofessionals, or classified staff with effective projects that improve student learning

Awards are granted without regard to race, color, creed, religion, age, gender, disability, or national origin.

Previous recipients of ING Unsung Heroes awards are not eligible to apply for another award.

Awards

All awards must be used to further the projects within the school or school system. Indirect costs or administrative fees should not be paid or withheld from the grant award. Each of the 100 finalists will receive an award of $2,000. Award checks are made payable jointly to the recipient and to his or her school. At least one award will be granted in each of the 50 United States, provided one or more qualified applications are received from each state. Of the 100 finalists, three will be selected for additional financial awards. First place will receive $25,000; second place will receive $10,000; and the third place winner will receive $5,000.

Selection of Finalists

Scholarship America will select 100 finalists. ING's Educators Advisory Board, consisting of teachers and education administrators, will select recipients of the top three awards in the summer of 2010. By October 2010, applicants will be notified whether or not they have been selected to receive an award.

Obligations and Revisions

Recipients have no obligation to ING. They are, however, required to notify Scholarship America of any changes of address or other relevant information. ING reserves the right to review the conditions and procedures of this program and to make changes at any time, including termination of the program.
